Services Committee is established as a standing committee of the Navajo Nation Council.

B. The Navajo Nation established the Health, Education and Human Services Committee as a Navajo Nation Council standing committee to review and recommend resolutions regarding veterans and/or veteran services. 2 N.N.C. §§ 401 (B)(6)(a).

C. Pursuant to 2 N.N.C.$ 500, the Resources and Development Committee is established as a standing committee of the Navajo Nation Council.

D. Pursuant to 2 N.N.C. §501 B(5), the Resources and Development Committee represents the Navajo Nation at federal levels, in cooperation and coordination with the President of the Navajo Nation and the appropriate committee of the Navajo Nation Council on proposed resolutions or actions affecting housing development.

E. The Resources and Development Committee has final authority over housing development projects funded by all funding sources; NAHASDA Indian Housing Plan; including any amendments pursuant to 2 N.N.C. § 501(B)(2)(b)
F. American Indian and Alaska Native communities have traditionally experienced some of the most deplorable housing conditions in the nation, including overcrowding, substandard living conditions, and high cost burden relative to household income.

G. A survey done on the Navajo Reservation showed that of 11,500 homes on the Navajo Reservation surveyed showed they actually housed 31,213 families of which 2,726 were veterans and their families.

H. The Navajo Housing Authority reports that from January 1-31, 2015 only 216 veterans participated in its homeownership programs and 128 participated in its housing rentals.

I. There are around 10,176 veterans on the Navajo Reservation.

J. There is a disparity between the available housing for veterans and the number of veterans and their homeless families in need.

K. Countless more veterans and their families are homeless on and off the reservation.

L. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) reports that over 25 percent of American Indian housing units have "severe housing needs" including lack of basic plumbing or kitchen facilities, housing more than one person per room, and bearing a cost burden of more than 50 percent of their income.

M. In 1996, Congress responded to the growing housing crisis in Indian Country by passing the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act (NAHASDA), which reduced burdensome and excessive regulation, affirmed tribal self-determination, and permitted the innovation and local problem-solving that is crucial to the success of community-based housing strategies.

N. NAHASDA established the Indian Housing Block Grant (IHBG) and authorized funding for housing and housing-related infrastructure and community development in American Indian and Alaska Native communities.

O. U.S. Congress enacted NAHASDA due to its finding that "there exists a unique relationship between the Government

P. U.S. Congress enacted NAHASDA due to its finding that "the Congress, through treaties, statutes, and the general course of dealing with Indian tribes, has assumed a trust responsibility for the protection and preservation of Indian tribes and for working with tribes and their members to improve their housing conditions and socioeconomic status so that they are able to take greater responsibility for their own economic condition;" NAHASDA, 25 U.S.C. § 4101(2) (2008); 24 C.F.R. § 1000.2(a)(4) (2013).

Q. U.S. Congress enacted NAHASDA due to its finding that "the need for affordable homes in safe and healthy environments on Indian reservations, in Indian communities, and in Native Alaskan villages is acute and the Federal Government shall work not only to provide housing assistance, but also, to the extent practicable, to assist in the development of private housing finance mechanisms on Indian lands to achieve the goals of economic self-sufficiency and self-determination for tribes and their members;" NAHASDA, 25 U.S.C. § 4101(6) (2008); 24 C.F.R. § 1000.2(a)(6) (2013).

R. U.S. Congress enacted NAHASDA due to its finding that "Federal assistance to meet these responsibilities shall be provided in a manner that recognizes the right of Indian self-determination and tribal self-governance by making such assistance available directly to the Indian tribes or tribally designated entities under authorities similar to those accorded Indian tribes in Public Law 93-638 (25 U.S.C. 450 et seq.). NAHASDA, 25 U.S.C. § 4101(7) (2008); 24 C.F.R. § 1000.2(a)(7) (2013).

S. NAHASDA’s objectives are "[t]o assist and promote affordable housing activities to develop, maintain and operate affordable housing in safe and healthy environments on Indian reservations and in other Indian areas for occupancy by low-income Indian families;" NAHASDA, 25 U.S.C. § 4131(a)(1) (2008); 24 C.F.R. § 1000.4(a) (2013).

T. NAHASDA’s objectives are "[t]o ensure better access to private mortgage markets for Indian tribes and their..."

U. NAHASDA’s objectives are “[t]o coordinate activities to provide housing for Indian tribes and their members and to promote self-sufficiency of Indian tribes and their members;” NAHASDA, 25 U.S.C. § 4131(a)(3) (2008); 24 C.F.R. § 1000.4(c) (2013).

W. The spirit of NAHASDA recognizes that the decision making authority for the housing services and programs lies with the tribal governments, and tribal leadership are essential to the development of Indian policy with regards to housing.

X. NAHASDA definitions echo the spirit as well for decision making by tribes in that its regulations define family and homeless family as determined by the tribe. 24 C.F.R. § 1000.10(b) (2013).

Y. Housing may be provided for low income, homeless, and veteran Indian families as decided by the Navajo Nation through its sovereign self-determination ability. NAHASDA, 25 U.S.C. § 4131(b)(1) (2008).

Z. Housing may also be provided for non-low income veterans and Indian families “Notwithstanding paragraph (1), a recipient may provide housing or housing assistance through affordable housing activities for which a grant is provided under this chapter to any family that is not a low-income family, to the extent that the Secretary approves the activities due to a need for housing for those families that cannot reasonably be met without that assistance.” NAHASDA, 25 U.S.C. § 4131(b) (2) (A) (2008).

AA. Further, “Notwithstanding paragraph (1), a recipient may provide housing or housing assistance provided through affordable housing activities assisted with grant amounts under this chapter for a family on an Indian reservation or other Indian area if the recipient determines that the presence of the family on the Indian reservation or other Indian area is essential to the well-being of Indian families and the need for housing for the family cannot reasonably be met without such assistance.” NAHASDA, 25 U.S.C. § 4131(b)(3) (2008).

BB. The Navajo Nation believes it is in the best interest of the Nation to exercise its sovereignty and self-determination to provide housing as it determines and/or housing assistance through affordable housing activities assisted with grant amounts from NAHASDA funding for a veteran family on the Navajo reservation or other Indian area as the Nation determines that the presence of the family on the Navajo reservation or other Indian area is essential to the well-being of Indian families and the need for housing for the family cannot reasonably be met without such assistance.

CC. The Navajo Nation believes the exercise of its sovereignty and self-determination in this legislation is supported by the spirit and objectives of NAHASDA which is supported by the U.S. Congressional findings in enacting NAHASDA.

Section Two.

A. The Navajo Nation directs the Navajo Housing Authority to amend its Indian Housing Plan to include and give priority to all honorably discharged Navajo veterans for affordable housing activities to include rental and homeownership by mortgage or otherwise including free homes to honorably discharged Navajo veterans on the Navajo reservation or other Indian area through criteria established by the Navajo Housing Authority in collaboration with the Navajo Nation Department of Veterans Affairs.

B. The Navajo Nation directs the Navajo Housing Authority to immediately develop its Indian Housing Plan to include non-low income families pursuant to Y above.

Background Paper on Excluding Veterans’ Compensation and Survivors’ Benefits from the Definition of Income in NAHASDA

Introduction

The Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act ("NAHASDA") provides housing assistance to low-income Native American families on Indian reservations, in Alaska Native villages and on the Hawaiian Home Lands. The Indian Housing Block Grant ("IHBG") is the central feature of the NAHASDA and is the single largest Federal source of capital for housing development, housing-related infrastructure, and home repair and maintenance in Indian Country.

Low-Income Eligibility Requirement

NAHASDA also provides guidance to IHBG recipients as to which activities are eligible for funding, including down-payment assistance, property acquisition, new construction and housing rehabilitation. NAHASDA’s housing assistance is limited to Native American families making below 80 percent of median income, and provides a limited number of exceptions to the low income requirement for law enforcement officers and other persons essential to the well-being of the respective tribal community. The statute contains no exception for service-disabled veterans or families of soldiers killed in action. Therefore, although tribes have leeway in setting rents for qualified families, there is no flexibility in determining economic eligibility.

Impact of Income Requirement on Native American Veterans

Compensation paid to veterans with service-related disabilities is not considered income by the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS"). However, HUD considers such compensation income for determining eligibility for low-income housing under NAHASDA. Therefore disability payments and survivor benefits can place a family above the low-income threshold, resulting in a denial of housing assistance. Such an interpretation penalizes veterans with disabilities and families that receive survivors’ benefits. In Native American communities, this problem is compounded because of limited affordable housing stock.

A survey done on the Navajo Nation Reservation in Arizona of 11,500 households showed that, in actuality, those homes housed 31,213 families. Of those, 2,726 were veterans and their families. Of those, 86 received disability compensation. Severe overcrowding coupled with veterans returning home to family caretakers, has resulted in these Indian families becoming ineligible for housing assistance --- against the backdrop of a population with significant unmet housing needs.

The Indian Veterans’ Housing Opportunity Act of 2009 (H.R. 3553)

The “Indian Veterans Housing Opportunity Act of 2009” (HR.3553) was recently introduced by Representative Ann Kirkpatrick (D-AZ) to amend the definition of “income” in NAHASDA to exclude payments for “disability compensation under chapter 11 of title 38, United States Code, or dependency and indemnity compensation under chapter 13 of such title.” The bill will provide veterans and their families an exemption to the low income requirement.

Conclusion

NAHASDA was enacted to provide Indian tribes and Native American communities with new and creative tools necessary to develop culturally relevant, safe, decent and affordable housing for Native people. Native American soldiers who have put themselves in harm’s way protecting our nation should not be penalized for their service and their sacrifice. The amendment contemplated by H.R.3553 will enable tribes to fully serve some of their most needy of families -- those caring for disabled veterans returning home or their survivors left behind.

Housing Needs
Assessment &
Demographic Analysis
August 2011

A.) The purpose of this section's analysis was to extract basic demographic and housing data from the NHA Survey in order to highlight where conditions so as to better understand the dynamics of people and housing on the Navajo Reservation. Total population histories and projections are also considered, with additional information on migration factors driving the population trends.
Housing Need

1.) This part of the report is the culmination of all research and analysis preceding it. Here, the total current housing-unit needs for the Navajo Nation are detailed. Housing needs are first determined by the condition of the housing stock and then looked at in terms of total capacity. Capacity based additions to the housing stock are driven by crowded housing conditions.

2.) The talent and experience that the Navajo Housing Authority possesses in the development and management of affordable housing provides it with an opportunity to lead an effort that could mark the beginning of community renewal benefitting both housing residents and Navajo Nation government agencies. The recommendations contained herein recognize that the scale of the effort ahead is large and therefore, they are intended to create opportunities for NHA to engage other parties to more actively participate in housing and community development activities thereby sharing both burdens and successes.

ELDERLY WITH OR RAISING CHILDREN

1.) Nearly half of all households where the elderly are raising children have incomes below $15,000 and contain a disabled or retired individual. The unemployment and crowding rates are lower than the nation as a whole, however, low income rates, disability rates, and veteran rates are higher than the nation as a whole.

2.) Within the Navajo Reservation elderly women outnumber elderly men by 13%. This may be due to the average lower life expectancy of Navajo men (approximately 69) — although it should be noted that if either men or women reach the age of 65, their life expectancy shifts to 85 and 88 respectively.

3.) Of all elders, roughly 31% consider themselves retired, that is, beyond working years. Another 33% consider themselves capable of working but are currently out of work, and 30% consider themselves unemployed. The remainder do not report themselves in either category.

4.) 7% of elders are military veterans; this is somewhat lower than the percentage for both the Navajo Nation and the United States as a whole and is likely due in large part to lower-than-average life spans of Navajo men. More closely related to potential housing needs, however, is the fact that 39% of elders list themselves as disabled. This is consistent with the United States as a whole, where approximately 39% of those aged 65 or older site a severe disability. 36 Disabilities can have consequences on daily life activities including bathing, eating, walking, using the toilet, and dressing. Consequently, disability is often a significant conditioning factor for housing.

5.) Within the Navajo reservation, 20% of elders live alone while another 23% live in crowded living conditions, both facts have implications for housing needs. Overall, the percentage of elders living alone is considerably lower than the national average, which is closer to 30%. Nonetheless, this has implications for housing requirements, as elders living alone often need to be proximal to assistance. Those living in crowded conditions clearly do not lack nearby assistance, but instead have other concerns.

Veteran Homeownership Opportunities

Navajo Housing Authority plans to continue Veterans housing assistance for all income ranges of veterans and to leverage the current resources offered by the U.S. Dept of Veterans Affairs native veteran direct home loan program and NN veterans trust fund to the extent funds are available and respective state veterans agency programs to maximize leveraging so that all Navajo veterans can be assisted for home repair, expansion and/or new construction. NHA also intends to create a program to be a funding partner to assist our veterans.

What is your Chapter doing to improve your Community needs?

- Infrastructure
- Better Schools
- More Navajo Businesses
- Transportation
- Better Health Care
- Grow our economy

Leakage of Navajo dollars to the border towns

Leakage of retail outlets is one of the major problems faced by the Navajo people. A survey by the Support Services Department of the Nation shows that only around 36% of all the Navajo monies are spent inside the reservation. In other words, over 64% of the Navajo money is spent in off-reservation communities. This is simply because the Nation lacks wholesale and retail outlets. In remote areas, the problem is further exacerbated by lack of transportation. A ride to Gallup from Low Mountain, for example, costs as much as $100.00 round trip, provided some vehicle owner volunteers to make the trip. This causes great hardship, particularly to the elderly. The problem typically sky rockets during the winter.
